Welcome to EASA Armenia's web page

Every year since 1981, hundreds of European students of architecture have gathered each summer to discuss and work with architecture, student to student. These summer schools are organized by EASA (European Architecture Students Assembly) and happens in a new place and with a specific theme for each year. During the two weeks of the assembly, visions and experiments grow from workshops, tutored and arranged by architecture students. It is an important and inspiring gathering, with a scope that extends beyond the 400 participants and organizers. Anyone who has ever attended an EASA summer school will have stories to tell about architecture, friendship and new ideas.

First e-mail >>> we get on Spring 1999 but since 2003 Armenia officially is member of EASA. In summer camp 2003 tree tutors presented Caucasus for first time... introducing Armenian medieval architecture and joining big European professional family. You can see documents in Archive >>>,

EASA Armenia has a part of a big projects named "NeoARCH" project >>> to assist our main goal: make architecture more DEMOCRATIC...
